What you need to know about the Whale Shark

The whale shark is completely harmless to humans, it is actually a very docile and curious creature. The Whale Shark swims very slowly on the surface which makes it easy and relaxing to swim with them.

Swimming with the Whale Shark

Swimming with the Whale Sharks will be done by groups of 2 people accompanied by a certified guide at all times. Once in the water with the whale sharks, we must respect the following rules:

- It is forbidden to swim with the Whale Sharks without a life jacket or flotation device.
- Swimmers must remain at least 6 feet from the Whale Shark and you are not allowed to touch or hold it at all.
- Do Not Interfere with the movements of the Whale Shark by putting yourself in front of him.
- Do not make sudden moves in the water when we are close to the whale shark.

Respecting these simple rules you'll have the best opportunity to interact with the whale shark and a most memorable experience. Have in mind that, unfortunately, the Whale Shark is an endangered specie.
